K5003

K5003-HD

We have great news! Beginning in March 2026, we will be introducing a new, advanced Ironslok model that combines the finest elements of our K5003 and K5003-HD designs. This new model will replace both current versions, offering improved performance and value by combining the cost-effectiveness of the K5003 with the spacious design and quick-release functionality of the HD model.

Form:

The new end components are made of the same high-quality materials as our current designs.

Fit and Function:

The new K5003-HD is compatible with all iron sets that our current Standard and HD models accommodate.

K5003-HD (revised)

What is improved:

- End modules accommodate larger irons than the Standard version.
- Easy-latch Fastlok cam lever system for quick access to your tools even with your gloves on.
- The new Handle end has additional spike accommodations
- The new Housing end has a tapered opening and keyed entry for easy tool alignment.

If you have any questions about this revision, please give us a call.
